

Why I love the Alta Moda Fashion Hotel

Written by Jenny Kerr

Monday, 03 January 2011 19:30 - Last Updated Friday, 22 April 2011 09:12

Anyone looking to find a hip and modern hotel will fall in love with the Alta Moda Fashion Hotel.

Don't be intimidated by the name, although fashionable in every sense, it is surprisingly affordable. I sometimes shy away from hotels that have the description of what the hotel should be, like "Quality Inn" because I usually don't find them having much of any thing I consider to be quality. I was first drawn to the hotel after searching for what seemed like days to find the perfect place at the perfect price. I attempted to book too-good-to-be-true prices for the four star Corinthia Budapest Hotel, but when I neared the end of my transaction, somehow there were several hundred dollars in extra hidden fees. So I was back to square one. My boyfriend Joe and I each got on our laptops to scour the internet looking for something comparable but, of course, more affordable. We finally came across what I believe to be the perfect choice, the Alta Moda Fashion Hotel. Located on the Pest side of Budapest, it's within walking distance of pretty much anything you would really care to see in town.

Why I love the Alta Moda Fashion Hotel

Written by Jenny Kerr

Monday, 03 January 2011 19:30 - Last Updated Friday, 22 April 2011 09:12

Why I love the Alta Moda Fashion Hotel

Written by Jenny Kerr

Monday, 03 January 2011 19:30 - Last Updated Friday, 22 April 2011 09:12

Location Map